

She Followed Him to School One Day

Somewhat like the rhyme about Mary's faithful lamb was the situation when Veteran Walter D. Stimple of Wauwatosa, Wis., brought his year-old daughter, Jeanne, to the classroom at University of Wisconsin. It created quite a commotion and Stimple had to take the girl home before the class was over. Stimple's wife was ill and they were unable to get anyone to care for the girl, so Stimple's professor invited him to bring the girl to class.

SPANISH QUESTION BEFORE UNO

GUNMAN FREES GIRL, 21, HELD IN ABDUCTION

Kidnaped By Man Who Robs Father's Store In Youngstown

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, April 6.—Patricia Smith, pretty, 21-year-old red-head kidnapped last night by a gunman who robbed her father's store, happily rejoined her parents today after being released by her abductor 40 miles from the scene of the robbery, police reported.
The auburn-haired girl told police she was led from her father's store at gun-point, pushed into the gunman's automobile and forced to accompany him on a wild ride toward East Liverpool.
Blindfolded by the robber, Patricia was ejected from the automobile when it reached the Lincoln highway, north of East Liverpool, she told police.
The girl called her father, Irvan Smith, from a nearby farm house and was brought to the home of her parents in a police car, Police Chief Don B. Thomas reported.
Shaken But Unharmed
Chief Thomas said the girl was uninjured, though somewhat shaken, by her kidnapping which lasted about two hours.
Miss Smith told police the bandit merely used her "as a shield" to facilitate his escape with $130 in loot taken from her father's pockets and a cash register in the Smith drug store.
She described her abductor as wearing a brown suit and about 30 years old, and said that she did not recognize him.
Ohio highway patrolmen and city police patrols in the East Liverpool area were alerted in the continuing search for the robber-kidnaper today as police attempted to trace the path of the gunman's auto from the place where the girl was released, Chief Thomas said.
Smith, father of the abducted girl, earlier told police he was compelled to lie on the floor of his establishment as the gunman seized the loot and left with the proprietor's daughter, menacing the girl with a revolver.
Waited Two Hours In Car
Mr. and Mrs. Smith prepared a joyful homecoming for their daughter after she returned from her two-hour abduction.
The bandit drove to the intersection of Routes 7 and 30, just north of East Liverpool. He told Miss Smith he had a date with a woman there. They waited there two hours during which the bandit told the girl about himself. He said he was from a good family, had a college education. But refused to answer any of Miss Smith's questions.
He said he did not need the money. In fact, he said he would return it to the Smith home within a week.
The bandit then said he had to make a phone call, directed the girl to get out of the car, and drove away. Miss Smith ran to a nearby farmhouse and called Youngstown police.

Seize $5,000 Cargo Of Bootleg Whiskey

FREMONT, April 6—Police Chief Charles Johnson reported today his department confiscated 127 cases of "bootleg" whisky when officers stopped a Steubenville, O., truck which failed to observe a red traffic light.
Johnson, who estimated value of the cargo at $5,000, said the men on the truck admitted buying the whiskey in Chicago for delivery in Steubenville.

HOUSE FIGHT SEEN FOR OPA

Year's Extension Is Granted, But With Modifications

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The OPA bounced today from the congressional trying pan into the fire. The bill prolonging the price agency's life for a year beyond June 30 headed toward red hot debate on the house floor after the banking committee voted far-reaching revisions and curtailment of its powers.
An OPA spokesman said the committee action, is sustained by the house and senate, would hike retail prices on automobiles, refrigerators, radios and many other items, with consumer costs increasing by more than half a billion dollars this year.
Could Have Been Worse
Nevertheless, congressional friends of OPA said the drubbing the agency got in the committee was not as bad as they feared.
Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.), a banking committee member, commented:
"The bill brought out by the committee is not all that I wanted, but it is better than I expected in view of tremendous pressure brought by opponents of OPA. It would result in some price increases, but I do not believe it is a break-through."
The committee brushed aside the pleas for an early end of OPA made by the National Association of Manufacturers, the United States Chamber of Commerce and some.

Find $153,150 From Postal Theft Case Buried In Backyard

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The postoffice department announced today that three inspectors working on a postal theft case had unearthed $153,150 buried nine feet deep in a yard in Jacksonville, Fla.
The department said the money was part of $180,000 stolen by a former postoffice employee, who the department said confessed before he died Aug. 10, 1944. It said the case involved the biggest money theft in postal history.
Chief Inspector James J. Doran, asserting that discovery of the $153,150 solved the case, related that three inspectors working on a postal theft case had unearthed $153,150 buried nine feet deep in a yard in Jacksonville, Fla.

Increase In Wheat Price Is Forecast

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—With experts falling behind goals, the government soon may raise the price of wheat and order a curtailment in the milling of flour for domestic use.
Forecasts that such actions will be taken to feed the hungry abroad were made in government quarters after Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced that first quarter shipments of wheat and flour equivalents fell 313,000 tons short of the 3,000,000 ton goal.
Asserting that "We are getting to the bottom of the barrel," Anderson said the next 60 to 90 days will be "the most critical period in the world food crisis."
Discussions of price increases of as much as 25 cents a bushel were being carried on by department experts. Wheat now is bringing farmers a national average price of about $1.58.
An increase would be designed to pull as much grain from farms as possible within the next 90 days. Many farm leaders contend that under present price regulations, it is more profitable to feed grain to livestock than to sell it.

Highlight of Mr. Truman's first visit to Chicago since he became president nearly a year ago will be his address in Soldier field at 3 p. m. (CST).
His arrival at the big lake front stadium was to be marked by a 21-gun salute as a crowd, expected to be about 85,000, greets the President. The presidential party will return to Washington.

Farm Vets To Get On Job Training

Plans are nearly complete for starting the on-the-job training program for farm veterans in Columbiana county.
Veterans who do not expect to attend school may participate in the on-the-job training program with the regular schooling allowance.
In addition to instruction on the farm, 200 hours per year must be spent in study of related subjects in classroom work or in similar instruction meetings. A vocational agriculture teacher will be employed by the Veterans administration to provide the instruction for the veteran.
Almost enough veterans are now enrolled to start the course. Interested veterans must get the regular schooling certificate from the Veterans administration for sending in an application for this and the farm must be approved as a training center by the State Department of Education County Superintendent of Schools W. E. Roberts approves the application for the farm.
The County Extension office in Lisbon is receiving the applications and is assisting the veterans in preparing their applications.
A meeting of veterans interested in this program, together with their fathers or employers, will be held in the Lisbon high school at 8:30 p. m. next Thursday. E. A. Blackford of the Veterans administration in Cleveland will be present to explain the program.
All interested veterans are urged to attend this meeting or to contact the extension office in advance of the meeting.

GUNMAN FREES
GIRL, 21, HELD
IN ABDUCTION

Kidnaped By Man Who Robs Father's Store In Youngstown

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, April 6.—Patricia Smith, pretty, 21-year-old red-head kidnaped last night by a gunman who robbed her father's store, happily rejoined her parents today after being released by her abductor 40 miles from the scene of the robbery, police reported.

The abductor, a man who police said was led from her father's store at gun-point, pushed into the gunman's automobile and forced to accompany him on a wild ride toward East Liverpool.

Blindfolded by the robber, Patricia was ejected from the automobile when it reached the Lincoln highway, north of East Liverpool, she told police.

The girl called her father, Ivan Smith, from a nearby farm house and was brought to the home of her parents in a police car, Police Chief Don B. Thomas reported.

Shaken But Unharmed
Chief Thomas said the girl was uninjured, though somewhat shaken, by her kidnapping which lasted about two hours.

Miss Smith told police the bandit merely used her "as a shield" to facilitate his escape with $130 in loot taken from her father's pockets and a cash register in the Smith drug store.

She described her abductor as wearing a brown suit and about 30 years old, and said that she did not recognize him.

Ohio highway patrolmen and city police patrols in the East Liverpool area were alerted in the continuing search for the robber-kidnaper today as police attempted to trace the path of the gunman's auto from the place where the girl was released, Chief Thomas said.

Smith, father of the abducted girl, earlier told police he was compelled to lie on the floor of his establishment as the gunman seized the loot and left with the proprietor's daughter, menacing the girl with a revolver.

Waited Two Hours In Car
Mr. and Mrs. Smith prepared a joyful homecoming for their daughter after she returned from her two-hour abduction.

The bandit drove to the intersection of Routes 7 and 30, just north of East Liverpool. He told Miss Smith he had a date with a woman there. They waited two hours during which the bandit told the girl about himself. He said he was from a good family, had a college education. But refused to answer any of Miss Smith's questions.

He said he didn't need the money. In fact, he said he would return it to the Smith home within a week.

The bandit then said he had to make a phone call, directed the girl to get out of the car, and drove away. Miss Smith ran to a nearby farmhouse and called Youngstown police.

Increase In Wheat
Price Is Forecast

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—With experts falling behind goals, the government soon may raise the price of wheat and order a curtailment in the milling of flour for domestic use.

Forecasts that such actions will be taken to feed the hungry abroad were made in government quarters after Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced that first quarter shipments of wheat and flour equivalents fell 313,000 tons short of the 3,009,000 ton goal.

Anderson said, "We are getting to the bottom of the barrel." Anderson said the next 60 to 90 days will be "the most critical period in the world food crisis."

Discussions of price increases of as much as 25 cents a bushel were being carried on by department grain authorities. Wheat now is bringing farmers a national average price of about $1.58.

An increase would be designed to pull as much grain from farms as possible within the next 90 days. Many farm leaders contend that under present price regulations, it is more profitable to feed grain to livestock than to sell it.

HOUSE FIGHT
SEEN FOR OPA

Year's Extension Is Granted.
But With Modifications

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The OPA bounced today from the congressional frying pan into the fire.

The bill prolonging the price agency's life for a year beyond June 30 headed toward red hot debate on the house floor after the banking committee voted far-reaching revisions and curtailment of its powers.

An OPA spokesman said the committee action, is sustained by the house and senate, would hike retail prices on automobiles, refrigerators, radios and many other items, with consumer costs increasing by more than half a billion dollars this year.

Could Have Been Worse
Nevertheless, congressional friends of OPA said the drubbing the agency got in the committee was not as bad as they feared.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.), a banking committee member, commented: "The bill brought out by the committee is not all that I wanted, but it is better than I expected in view of tremendous pressure brought by opponents of OPA. It would result in some price increases, but I do not believe it is a break-through."

The committee brushed aside the plea for an early repeal of OPA made by the National Association of Manufacturers, the United States Chamber of Commerce and some

Find $153,150 From
Postal Theft Case
Buried In Backyard

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The postoffice department announced today that three inspectors working on a postal theft case had unearthed $153,150 buried nine feet deep in a yard in Jacksonville, Fla.

The department said the money was part of $180,000 stolen by a former postoffice employee, who the department said confessed before he died Aug. 10, 1944. It said the case involved the biggest money theft in postal history.

Chief Inspector James J. Doran, asserting that discovery of the $153,150 solved the case, related that three inspectors who had been ordered to retrace every step in the two-year hunt for the missing money found it in two tin cans and two glass jars, sealed with paraffin and enclosed in two lengths of stove pipe.

Doran said that the late Joseph D. Marshall, who died 20 months ago "was a clerk in the registry section of the West Bay annex of the Jacksonville postoffice when a Federal Reserve bank shipment came into his hands."

The postoffice department said: "He substituted for it a letter which he had already prepared to an innocent party and gave that letter the same number as the money shipment bore. The recipient kept the letter and the subsequent identification of Marshall's handwriting fastened the crime on him."

The postoffice department explained that Marshall was indicted but never was brought to court. He became ill while in jail awaiting trial and died after an operation.

Mrs. Marshall was tried and acquitted.

SUSPEND POLICE
IN WRONG ARREST

COLUMBUS, April 6.—Safety Director C. C. Cole today suspended four policemen for "neglect of duty," he said, in events preceding the death of Patrick Hicks, 53, a railroad foreman who was taken ill and who erroneously had been charged with driving while intoxicated.

"I want to get the full story of the case," Cole explained, and set a hearing for the officers Monday. The four who worked in the turnkey's office at city prison, are Sergeants P. D. Hinton and A. O. Boyette and Patrolmen A. R. Bachman and C. E. Shumate.

Navy To Complete
Its Demobilization

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Navy announced today its plans for winding up demobilization by Sept. 1.

Beginning July 1, when critical scores for naval reservists will have reached the final low point, personnel will be started for separation centers in four quotas, with all to be at the centers by Aug. 20 for processing and separation.

Insofar as practicable, highest point personnel will go first.

The plan covers all personnel except those signing for extended service, completing special assignments, under medical treatment, in disciplinary status, officers awaiting transfer to the regular navy, medical officers with unexpired internships and personnel of V-5 and V-8 programs or in the aviation preparatory program.

The first quota to go to the separation centers will be made up of 30 per cent of eligible reserves on board as of July 1, this quota arriving at the centers between July 1 and 14.

The second quota consists of the next 20 per cent, arriving between July 15 and 28; the third quota calls for 25 per cent of personnel to reach the centers between July 29 and Aug. 11 and the fourth or remaining 15 per cent arriving between Aug. 12 and 20.

TRUMAN TO SPEAK

Chicago Is Vocal Point Of
Nation's Army Day Parades

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 6.—America's victorious army today was on parade, in the sky and on city streets, before a nation at peace celebrating Army day.

Chicago was the focal point in the Army day programs planned in several cities, including Washington and New York. The nation's second largest city was host to President Truman and several high ranking army officers, headed by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Highlight of Mr. Truman's first visit to Chicago since he became president nearly a year ago will be his address in Soldier field at 3 p. m. (CST).

His arrival at the big lake front stadium was to be marked by a 21-gun salute as a crowd, expected to be about 55,000, greets the President. The presidential party will return to Washington.

Five-Mile Long Parade
Mr. Truman, from a stand at Congress street and Michigan boulevard, was to review the five-mile long parade along Michigan boulevard.

In the reviewing stand will be federal, state and city officials, army officers and Congressional Medal of Honor winners.

The line of march of 15,000 troops will include the famous Fifth (Red Diamond) infantry division, and a variety of massive war machines.

In New York City, more than 20,000 soldiers, sailors, Marines and including 2,300 cadets from West Point, will parade along Fifth avenue in review before Mayor William O'Dwyer and Gen. Omar Bradley, veterans' administrator.

The 82nd Airborne division will supply most of the marchers in the parade planned in Washington.

Other parades were to be held in San Francisco, San Antonio, Kansas City, New Orleans, Little Rock, Ark., Wichita and Parsons, Kans., Fort Knox, Ky., Lawton, Okla., El Paso, Houston, Waco, Austin and San Angelo, Tex., Gadsden, Ala., Columbus, Ga., and Monterey and Salinas, Calif.

Almost enough veterans are now enrolled to start the course. Interested veterans must get the regular schooling certificate from the Veterans administration for sending in an application for this and the farm must be approved as a training center by the State Department of Education. County Superintendent of Schools W. E. Roberts approves the application for the farm.

The County Extension office in Lisbon is receiving the applications and is assisting the veterans in preparing their applications.

A meeting of veterans interested in this program, together with their fathers or employers, will be held in the Lisbon High school at 8:30 p. m. next Thursday. E. A. Blackford of the Veterans administration in Cleveland will be present to explain the program.

All interested veterans are urged to attend this meeting or to contact the extension office in advance of the meeting.

5 CHILDREN DIE
WHEN HOME BURNS

STERLING, Mass., April 6.—Five children, left in care of a young neighbor, perished early today when fire swept their two-story frame dwelling.

They were identified by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Woodring, as Winifred, 10; Patricia and Priscilla, 8; twins; Francis Michael, 6, and Carol Ann, 5.

Four of the bodies were recovered shortly after the fierce blaze was extinguished, but they were charred beyond recognition. The fifth body was found several hours later.

A 15-year-old girl, Nancy Cutler, who state police said was minding the children while their parents attended a basketball game in nearby Worcester, suffered burns on the arms and hands.

UNO Council To Demand
Full Report On Soviet-Iran Pact

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 6.—The task of determining whether the present Spanish regime is a threat to international peace — and what to do about it — headed today toward an uncertain reception in the United Nations Security council.

The Polish embassy in London announced Poland's delegate had been instructed to raise the Spanish question and to propose that the United Nations sever diplomatic relations with Generalissimo Franco's government.

The announcement found the council in weekend recess — after disposal of the ticklish Iranian issue until May 6 — and warning to fashion rules on procedure when members return to Hunter college Tuesday.

Divided On Question
A check of those delegations remaining in New York, however, showed them divided over the question of delving into the Spanish question immediately.

Dr. Oscar Lange, the Polish delegate, was in Washington. It was not learned whether he had been instructed to raise the question at Tuesday's session.

In British circles, where it was made clear France has no sympathy, the Spanish question was not regarded as an emergency such as the Iranian dispute.

Henri Bonnet, the French delegate, said "it's a move which certainly won't surprise anybody in France."

The French originally entertained the idea of council action on Spain, but had decided to let the council of foreign ministers consider it first.

Official Russian reaction was not available but the Soviet's stern attitude toward Franco was no secret. It was considered likely that Poland's decision to bring the matter before the council would be supported by Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet delegate.

Full Report Expected
In Madrid the Franco government commented upon the fact Romania has broken diplomatic relations with Spain, said relations between the two countries had been suspended "since occupation of Romania by Soviet armies."

Diplomatic authorities said today the Security council probably will insist on a full report from both Russia and Iran on the agreements made to settle their dispute.

The report, based on yesterday's Tehran announcement that the two governments had agreed on troop oil and political problems, would give the council opportunity to review the Russo-Iranian arrangements and decide whether it considered them satisfactory.

STAMP, COIN CLUB

The membership is open to all stamp and coin collectors in the vicinity of Salem. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month in the Memorial building.

The club is planning an extensive auction of both stamps and coins at a meeting held at the club on Tuesday, April 9, at 8 p. m. It will be in charge of club officers, assisted by an advisory committee composed of R. Max Gard, Vincent Judge and R. H. Schneebelen.

The auction is open to all collectors, whether members of the Salem Stamp and Coin club or not.

Disorganized Labor

The work stoppage of coal miners at the instant when steel workers were beginning to recover their production stride helps to raise doubts about a common notion: that organized labor has any capacity within itself for unity.

Reported events in the recent convention of United Automobile Workers told the general public what always has been evident to insiders, that inside individual unions there is an intense struggle for advantage. There is friction between unions belonging to the same national organizations and open conflict between the national organizations.

Organized labor, frequently spoken of as an entity in politics and sociology, in reality is a vast conglomeration of separate organizations with no effective central direction, no unity of purpose, and no cooperation. It is less organized, if possible, than enterprise, which never pretended to be organized. The coal strike throws a monkey wrench into the plans of C.I.O. C.I.O. never misses a chance to un-horse A.F.L. and vice versa. The railroad brother-hoods gladly would discomfit both, if they could. If the phrase "organized labor" were to be changed to "disorganized labor," it would come closer to the fact.

Army Day

On the first postwar Army Day, the United States has disorganized what military historians will call one of the most powerful fighting forces ever created.

It has been unable to decide on a policy to salvage enough of its wartime strength to meet the demands of ordinary prudence in a still unsettled world.

There is a cool and systematic effort afoot at home, disguised as a crusade for the liberation of the G.I. from the "officer caste," to undermine discipline in the least-disciplined army in existence.

Millions of young men lately returned from service in the army range from 100 per cent critical to 10 per cent enthusiastic about their experiences. At the top of the armed forces, generals and admirals are unable to agree on the proper composition of the men's of national security. Meanwhile, the first breath-taking disclosures of waste and graft in the late war are beginning to come to light. The army, in other words, has been reduced to its peacetime status, which is that of a necessary evil wide open to criticism from all sides, always eligible for cutting to the bone in economy drives, last government function to get a decent break from politicians—and, of course the thing everybody depends on when danger threatens. This Army Day is going to be more typical than it is comfortable to admit.

Challenge To Cancer

The greatest single step yet taken in the fight to widen humanity's margin of security against cancer is the American Cancer society's campaign to raise $12,000,000.

Like the previously organized efforts to reduce the hazards of tuberculosis and polio, the cancer campaign is an appeal for self-protection. Even less than the other scourges of human health, cancer is no respecter of persons. Neither money nor influence can furnish immunity.

Perhaps nothing ever will furnish immunity, but cooperative effort over a period of years could produce a kind of cooperative security that is not yet available to the ordinary run of cancer victims. That is the American Cancer society's purpose.

The amount to be raised this month is not great. Compared with the vast sums spent on war, which actually is less dangerous than cancer, $12,000,000 is a trifling down payment on the security a cooperative program to fight cancer can provide.

Hitlers Are Born, Not Made

The theme that hunger makes Hitlers, a favorite with European famine relief publicists, is first-rate emotional propaganda—but ridiculous. Every American soldier who entered Germany during and after the climax of the war realized that the natives were the best-fed people he had seen.

In contradiction of Nazi lies about Germany's desperate need for food, Germans were well-fed before the beginning of the war. During the war itself, they deliberately starved captive populations and appropriated food for themselves.

It was German youth fattened in Norway who returned to that neutral country to seize it in the name of their paranoid Fuehrer. It was Fritz Kuhn, pot-bellied bundist, who led the Nazi movement in the United States. When did Hermann Goering ever do any starving?

Hunger does not make Hitlers. The type is variously born or developed by diseased thinking. The thing that makes Hitlers is the ability to enter into conspiracy to starve others, which was the dominant characteristic of Germany in its Hitlerian era.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, April 7.

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds indications of most propitious and felicitous conditions, in home, social, cultural and spiritual desires and aspirations, with particular stress on the advancement or preferment of ecclesiastical or philanthropic objectives or ambitions.

In these, however, it is suggested that the approach to such benefits be quiet, amiable, discreet and tactful and also it would be well to keep alert to smooth, tricky and intriguing contacts.

Those whose birthday it is are encouraged to reach high for the attainment of worthy ambitions and aspirations, in which novel, clever, and ambitious objectives may hope for solid support from superiors or those in influential posts.

However, there is a menace of treachery, intrigues and sinister snares from quarters little suspected. Keep alert, sign papers warily, and hold to integrity.

A child born on this day may have high ambitions and be capable and shrewd, but it may be ensnared by suspicious persons or circumstances.

For Monday, April 8.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a difficult and hazardous state of affairs, in which it may be all but impossible to make any sort of progress or stable headway. It may take much initiative, firmness and sane tactics to overcome or offset a maelstrom of deception, confusion, underhanded and sinister conditions.

Loss, sorrow, and depressions in finance, health, hopes are probable unless a clean sweep be utilized to create firm foundations for a new set-up and constructive future. Keep quiet, firm, hopeful, honest.

Those whose birthday it is may find but little return for concentrated efforts and sound creative objectives, unless they fortify themselves against adverse confusion and complicated situations, in which a sinister and subtle undercurrent seems bent on frustration and defeat as well as sorrow and regret.

Sound tactics, a determined effort to tear down conflicts and impediments with a view to rebuilding on sound, enduring and worthwhile bases being rigidly worked for. Fortitude, diligence and astute methods of attack should assist to future rewards.

A child born on this day will have a modicum of talents, skills, and high qualities of character and ambitions to defeat stubborn obstacles and sinister and deceptive life conditions.

The old income tax got safely through another birthday—but without many happy returns.

Emotional Conflict In Physical Disorders

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FEW parents realize how all important happiness is for the little child. Just as his growing body needs sunlight and fresh air, so his developing personality requires the atmosphere of love.

But love means different things to people, and parents generally seem to have a tendency to confuse it with pride. This is a mistake which is completely disruptive of child-happiness because it spurs parents to demand more from the child than he can give.

Forced Growth

A child cannot be forced into his various stages of growth. His nature must develop slowly from within and unfold gently like the unfolding leaf.

The child who lacks or who is pushed beyond his native capacities is likely to develop emotional conflicts. And emotional disturbances are reflected not only in deep-rooted personality defects, but in actual physical symptoms similar to those of disease.

Sometimes, there are grave behavior problems as well.... bed-wetting, dirt eating, ties (repeated twitching of certain muscles), and a great deal of crying at night.

Repeated Headache

According to Dr. Herbert C. Miller, of Yale university School of Medicine repeated attacks of headache in the absence of eye-strain, sinus infection, migraine and certain other disorders, are usually produced by conflict of the emotions or disturbing situations for which the child cannot find a ready solution.

He says, also, that attacks of pain over the heart lasting for a short time and accompanied by breathlessness may occur in children who have been pushed beyond their abilities by their parents.

Sometimes, they may develop because a child has been forced to assume responsibilities too great for one of his years. Another cause is a feeling of insecurity because of disturbed home conditions or a feeling of not being loved.

Abdominal Pain

Perhaps the most common symptom due to emotional conflicts is pain, even when accompanied by vomiting and constipation, may merely be an attempt on the part of the child to draw attention to himself.

In trying to determine just what is producing the emotional conflict responsible for the many symptoms, it is necessary not only to study the child's mental condition, but also emotions of the parents.

Parents so often make the mistake of not trying to find out just what the child's capabilities are but instead, try to mold the boy or girl according to some pattern which they select and, usually, there is no stimulation given to the child to live up to these ideals of the parents.

Such an attitude will bring on an emotional conflict which affects both child and parents.

Behavior Problems

In treating these behavior problems, it is important, first of all, to make sure there is no organic basis for the attacks as determined by a complete physical examination.

Then, the parents must be made to realize that the child's symptoms are not due to a disease but, rather to emotional disturbances.

Thus, by the proper change in attitude on the part of the parents, a great deal can often be done to relieve the trouble.

Much can be done, also, to prevent these symptoms. The expectant mother should rid herself of superstitions and false notions concerning the raising of the child.

She must not be afraid to handle the baby after it is born and she must not lose confidence in her ability to nurse him and care for him properly. A lack of confidence in the mother may easily be transferred to the baby.

If every parent would take stock of these things and realize that he must rid himself of his own emotional conflicts, fears and uncertainties lest they weigh on his child with crushing force, we would have better homes and fewer problem children.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

That this may not vanish into thin air

We have learned again the dreadful cost of freedom and seen the terrible consequences wrought upon the earth by power-crazed aggressors. Now we taste the sweetness of Peace, made precious by the sacrifices of those who took up the challenge to our ideals.

If their stilled voices could speak, they'd say to us, "Never let this happen again. Make sure that what we have done has been worth while."

This nation is firm in the belief that the world as we know it would never survive a war of atomic weapons. A nation unguarded would never again be able to mobilize to protect itself.

For that reason, on this Army Day of 1946, we see a new, highly trained Regular Army being formed. Already more men have volunteered than during any period in America's history. But, far more important than size—it is a new kind of peacetime Army manned by young men of high purpose and intelligence, capable of mastering the technical details of the scientific weapons essential to national safety today.

More than that, it will be an Army which has more opportunities for its members than any army on earth has ever offered. Education and travel. Good pay and comfortable living conditions for soldiers and their families. A retirement plan second-to-none. In short, one of the finest full-time careers a man could choose.

Let us all salute this new Army on Army Day. Let us recognize the responsible position it occupies in safeguarding the future of our country... that our Land and the Freedom we cherish above all else may not vanish into thin air.

Disorganized Labor

The work stoppage of coal miners at the instant when steel workers were beginning to recover their production stride helps to raise doubts about a common action: that organized labor has any capacity within itself for unity.

Reported events in the recent convention of United Automobile Workers told the general public what always has been evident to insiders, that inside individual unions there is an intense struggle for advantage. There is friction between unions belonging to the same national organizations and open conflict between the national organizations.

Organized labor, frequently spoken of as an entity in politics and sociology, in reality is a vast conglomeration of separate organizations with no effective central direction, no unity of purpose, and no cooperation. It is less organized, if possible, than enterprise, which never pretended to be organized. The coal strike throws a monkey wrench into the plans of C.I.O. C.I.O. never misses a chance to un-horse A.F.L. and vice versa. The railroad brother-hoods gladly would discomfit both, if they could. If the phrase "organized labor" were to be changed to "disorganized labor," it would come closer to the fact.

Army Day

On the first postwar Army Day, the United States has disorganized what military historians will call one of the most powerful fighting forces ever created.

It has been unable to decide on a policy to salvage enough of its wartime strength to meet the demands of ordinary prudence in a still unsettled world.

There is a cool and systematic effort afoot at home, disguised as a crusade for the liberation of the G.I. from the "officer caste," to undermine discipline in the least-disciplined army in existence.

Millions of young men lately returned from service in the army range from 100 per cent critical to 10 per cent enthusiastic about their experiences. At the top of the armed forces, generals and admirals are unable to agree on the proper composition of the means of national security. Meanwhile, the first breath-taking disclosures of waste and graft in the late war are beginning to come to light. The army, in other words, has been reduced to its peacetime status, which is that of a necessary evil wide open to criticism from all sides, always eligible for cutting to the bone in economy drives, last government function to get a decent break from politicians—and, of course the thing everybody depends on when danger threatens. This Army Day is going to be more typical than it is comfortable to admit.

Challenge To Cancer

The greatest single step yet taken in the fight to widen humanity's margin of security against cancer is the American Cancer society's campaign to raise $12,000,000.

Like the previously organized efforts to reduce the hazards of tuberculosis and polio, the cancer campaign is an appeal for self-protection. Even less than the other scourges of human health, cancer is no respecter of persons. Neither money nor influence can furnish immunity.

Perhaps nothing ever will furnish immunity, but cooperative effort over a period of years could produce a kind of cooperative security that is not yet available to the ordinary run of cancer victims. That is the American Cancer society's purpose.

The amount to be raised this month is not great. Compared with the vast sums spent on war, which actually is less dangerous than cancer, $12,000,000 is a trifling down payment on the security a cooperative program to fight cancer can provide.

Hitlers Are Born, Not Made

The theme that hunger makes Hitler, a favorite with European famine relief publicists, is first-rate emotional propaganda—but ridiculous. Every American soldier who entered Germany during and after the climax of the war realized that the natives were the best-fed people he had seen.

In contradiction of Nazi lies about Germany's desperate need for food, Germans were well-fed before the beginning of the war. During the war itself, they deliberately starved captive populations and appropriated food for themselves.

It was German youth fattened in Norway who returned to that neutral country to seize it in the name of their paranoiac fuhrer. It was Fritz Kuhn, pot-bellied bundist, who led the Nazi movement in the United States. When did Hermann Goering ever do any starving?

Hunger does not make Hitler. The type is variously born or developed by diseased thinking. The thing that makes Hitler is the ability to enter into conspiracy to starve others, which was the dominant characteristic of Germany in its Hitlerian era.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, April 7.

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds indications of most propitious and felicitous conditions, in home, social, cultural and spiritual desires and aspirations, with particular stress on the advancement or preferment of ecclesiastical or philanthropic objectives or ambitions.

In these, however, it is suggested that the approach to such benefits be quiet, amiable, discreet and tactful and also it would be well to keep alert to smooth, tricky and intriguing contacts.

Those whose birthday it is are encouraged to reach high for the attainment of worthy ambitions and aspirations, in which novel, clever, and ambitious objectives may hope for solid support from superiors or those in influential posts.

However, there is a menace of treachery, intrigues and sinister snares from quarters little suspected. Keep alert, sign papers warily, and hold to integrity.

A child born on this day may have high ambitions and be capable and shrewd, but it may be ensnared by suspicious persons or circumstances.

For Monday, April 8.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a difficult and hazardous day of affairs, in which it may be all but impossible to make any sort of progress or stable headway. It may take much initiative, firmness and sane tactics to overcome or offset a maelstrom of deception, confusion, underhanded and sinister conditions.

Loss, sorrow, and depressions in finance, health, hopes are probable unless a clean sweep be utilized to create firm foundations for a new set-up and constructive future. Keep quiet, firm, hopeful, honest.

Those whose birthday it is may find but little return for concentrated efforts and sound creative objectives, unless they fortify themselves against adverse confusion and complicated situations, in which a sinister and subtle undercurrent seems bent on frustration and defeat as well as sorrow and regret.

Sound tactics, a determined effort to tear down conflicts and impediments with a view to rebuilding on sound, enduring and worthwhile bases being rigidly worked for. Fortitude, diligence and astute methods of attack should assist to future rewards.

A child born on this day will have a modicum of talents, skills, and high qualities of character and ambitions to defeat stubborn obstacles and sinister and deceptive life conditions.

The old income tax got safely through another birthday—but without many happy returns.

Even some kids who haven't traveled the highways know what bad grades are.

Emotional Conflict In Physical Disorders

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

FEW parents realize how all important happiness is for the little child. Just as his growing body needs sunlight and fresh air, so his developing personality requires the atmosphere of love.

But love means different things to people, and parents generally seem to have a tendency to confuse it with pride. This is a mistake which is completely disruptive of child-happiness because it spurs parents to demand more from the child than he can give.

Forced Growth

A child cannot be forced into his various stages of growth. His nature must develop slowly from within and unfold gently like the unfolding leaf.

The child who lacks or who is pushed beyond his native capacities is likely to develop emotional conflicts. And emotional disturbances are reflected not only in deep-rooted personality defects, but in actual physical symptoms similar to those of disease.

Sometimes, there are grave behavior problems as well.... bed-wetting, dirt eating, the repeated twitching of certain muscles, and a great deal of crying at night.

Repeated Headache

According to Dr. Herbert C. Miller, of Yale University School of Medicine repeated attacks of headache in the absence of eye-strain, sinus infection, migraine and certain other disorders, are usually produced by conflict of the emotions or disturbing situations for which the child cannot find a ready solution.

He says, also, that attacks of pain over the heart lasting for a short time and accompanied by breathlessness may occur in children who have been pushed beyond their abilities by their parents.

Sometimes, they may develop because a child has been forced to assume responsibilities too great for one of his years. Another cause is a feeling of insecurity because of disturbed home conditions or a feeling of not being loved.

Abdominal Pain

Perhaps the most common symptom due to emotional conflicts is pain, even when accompanied by vomiting and constipation, may merely be an attempt on the part of the child to draw attention to himself.

In trying to determine just what is producing the emotional conflict

responsible for the many symptoms, it is necessary not only to study the child's mental condition, but also emotions of the parents.

Parents so often make the mistake of not trying to find out just what the child's capabilities are but instead, try to mold the boy or girl according to some pattern which they select and, usually, there is no stimulation given to the child to live up to these ideals of the parents.

Such an attitude will bring on an emotional conflict which affects both child and parents.

Behavior Problems

In treating these behavior problems, it is important, first of all, to make sure there is no organic basis for the attacks as determined by a complete physical examination.

Then, the parents must be made to realize that the child's symptoms are not due to a disease but, rather to emotional disturbances.

Thus, by the proper change in attitude on the part of the parents, a great deal can often be done to relieve the trouble.

Much can be done, also, to prevent these symptoms. The expectant mother should rid herself of superstitions and false notions concerning the raising of the child.

She must not be afraid to handle the baby after it is born and she must not lose confidence in her ability to nurse him and care for him properly. A lack of confidence in the mother may easily be transferred to the baby.

If every parent would take stock of these things and realize that he must rid himself of his own emotional conflicts, fears and uncertainties lest they weigh on his child with a crushing force, we would have better homes and fewer problem children.

BUT HE STAYED HONEST!

IT "COST" FRANK BARONE, 71-year-old shoemaker of Chicago, $1,090 to stay honest, and here's why. An unidentified man brought in a pair of shoes to his Notre Dame repair shop in the Windy City, leaving them with a request that they be reeled. Inspecting the shoes, after their owner left, the cobbler found a roll of 10 and 20-dollar bills totalling $1,100 tucked inside. When the owner returned to pick up his shoes, Barone handed him the money, $10 of which he made the shoemaker accept as reward—which only proves that honesty pays—09 per cent.

Strong in the Air

The nation which first implements the new strategy dictated by the advancing science of Air Power will lead the way into the new era of civilization.

The badge of a country's Air Power is its Air Force. The Air Force reflects the nation's awareness of the potentials of air science. Any future attack on America will come from the air. The Army Air Forces must be in constant readiness, trained in the new strategy, and maintained up to the split second with the latest equipment. For this task in national security the Army Air Forces needs the full support of the American people.

Let us not be overtaken by events, but shape events in the interest of world peace.

Paul Spaatz

COMMANDING GENERAL U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES

STRAIGHT from the shoulder, the man who helped build the world's greatest fighting air force tells why the nation's air arm must be strong in peace.

It is fitting that on this first Army Day since Victory, Americans should salute the Army Air Forces for their mighty accomplishments in war. But even more important, they should understand the vital role of the Air Forces and all other branches of the Army in guarding Victory through the years ahead.

The men who volunteer for service in the Regular Army—alert, splendidly trained, skilled in handling the newest scientific equipment—have a great responsibility today. Theirs is a task that commands the respect and admiration of every American citizen.

This Army Day message is sponsored by

BUT HE STAYED HONEST!

IT "COST" FRANK BARONE, 71-year-old shoemaker of Chicago, $1,000 to stay honest, and here's why. An unidentified man brought in a pair of shoes to his Notre Dame repair shop in the Windy City, leaving them with a request that they be reeled. Inspecting the shoes, after their owner left, the cobbler found a roll of 10 and 20-dollar bills totalling $1,100 tucked inside. When the owner returned to pick up his shoes, Barone handed him the money, $10 of which he made the shoemaker accept as reward—which only proves that honesty pays—09 per cent. Anderson Warns of Boom In Real Estate, Collapse

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson declared today that continuing advances in prices of farm real estate threaten to create a disastrous boom and a subsequent collapse.

He gave this warning in a statement commenting on a report of the bureau of agricultural economics that advances in prices of farm land, started early in the year, have not yet halted.

The bureau said farm real estate values rose 13 per cent during the year ended March 1 and 4 per cent more during the last 12 months. Values were said to average 71 per cent above the 1935 level.

Comparing the present with the real estate boom of World War I, Anderson said, "later teaches us that rising land prices can bring suffering to the entire nation as well as to individual farmers who lose their land and investors who lose their life savings."

Compliment your tots and watch them improve when they are praised.

"Putting On The Dog" For Easter

When Movie Actress Osa Massen joins the Easter parade this year, her dog, Duchess, will be right beside her. And Duchess, being an aristocratic pooch, couldn't bear to meet a better-dressed dog—not to mention a superior cat—anywhere on the avenue. So the two took their sartorial problem to Hollywood designer De Villiar, who created an exclusive Easter bonnet for Duchess from material not needed for Miss Massen's chapeau.

Anderson Warns of Boom In Real Estate, Collapse

WASHINGTON, April 6 — Secretary of Agriculture Anderson declared today that continuing advances in prices of farm real estate threaten to create a disastrous postwar land boom and a subsequent collapse.

He gave this warning in a statement commenting on a report of the bureau of agricultural economics that advances in prices of farm land, started early in the war, have not yet halted.

The bureau said farm real estate values rose 13 per cent during the year ended March 1 and 4 per cent more during the last 12 months. Values were said to average 71 per cent above the 1935-36 level.

Comparing the present trend with the real estate boom after World War I, Anderson said the latter "teaches us that runaway land prices can bring suffering to the entire nation as well as to unfortunate farmers who lose their land and investors who lose their life savings."

ATHENS—Tragic Greece, womb of world democracy and present Balkan political pivot, faces one of the most stupendous reconstruction jobs in history.

Her buildings are 23 per cent destroyed. More than 200,000 families among her 7,500,000 population are still homeless or living in makeshift shift hovels.

Her revenue has been cut 20 per cent in the agricultural areas by the ruin of war and the resultant flight from farms by peasants who for thousands of years have been her mainstay.

These are Greek government figures. And all that is left to rebuild her are her peoples' stout hands and hearts—and hopes of foreign help. Those hearts are fewer by 450,000—dead during war years from battle wounds, malnutrition and disease.

Peace No Solution

Peace has brought no solution to her problems, which are primarily economic rather than political.

In normal times 60 per cent of this population live on the soil yet only 18 per cent of Greece is arable. German, Italian, Albanian and Bulgarian invasions have razed by fire, bomb and shell scores of villages, and thousands of individual farm dwellings made great stretches of farmland uninhabitable.

"As a result," said one government survey, "people have congregated in the large urban centers of Greece." The nation's battered industrial system, never too flourishing, has been unable to absorb them yet productively—despite the tremendous rebuilding task at hand. Things are needed—tools, materials, transportation and communication facilities—to put this idle reservoir of labor to work.

"In these centers where there are not enough jobs even for the regular population," the report continued, "the number of unemployed has increased terribly and tens of thousands are without work."

"Overcrowding is terrible—10 to 20 persons live in a single unhealthy room—sanitary conditions are execrable and tuberculosis passes from person to person."

Help Is Needed

The Greek race will disappear and the conquerors whose aim was to wipe it out because we were the last Mediterranean obstacle to their drive to the Suez will achieve their purpose, unless we undertake the reconstruction of this country."

But all the leaders of Greece feel she is unequal to this task herself—without decisive help, either from the democratic west or the communist east.

Meanwhile the night clubs of Athens are crowded with black market profiteers and by day in the streets grown men beg and sell flowers with idle hands that could better be put to work lifting their homeland from the edge of chaos.

Uncle Sam Needs Men for Posts Throughout World

Nearly eight months after the war, the United States still mans garrisons on every continent and in 56 foreign countries and major islands throughout the world. Map above shows where U. Eye Banks In Key U. S. Cities Are Providing Healthy Corneas To Aid Sight Restoration

By NEA Service

NEW YORK—Eye banks, similar to the well-known blood banks, are being organized on a nation-wide scale so that 10,000 to 15,000 of the estimated sightless persons in the United States may have their sight restored.

In certain categories of blindness healthy corneal tissue may be grafted upon eyes to replace tissue that has become cloudy or opaque, but the operation is very difficult and few surgeons are qualified. Few blind persons, individually, could avail themselves of this opportunity, but the recently created Eye Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc., hopes to make this dream come true for many.

As its name implies, this organization is actually a bank—an institution whose capital stock is human eyes. Healthy eyes removed from persons immediately after death are sought by the Eye Bank.

Tissue must become immediately available for transplantation. Under present methods, this tissue can be preserved for only 72 hours. Speed is imperative. One of the prime functions of the Eye Bank is to obtain eyes promptly after they are removed, and preserve them for grafting upon the eyes of those who are accessible for the operation.

Sponsored by a council of 75 leaders in the fields of science and business, the Eye Bank, with headquarters at 210 E. 64th st., New York, is extending its work throughout the United States.

Leetonia Council Orders Drive Against Motorists

LEETONIA, April 5.—Traffic control and violations have been discussed at length by the village council and the police department has been authorized to arrest all violators of double parking, illegal parking, failing to stop at intersections and reckless driving.

Two of the greatest hazards Leetonia has at the present time are reckless driving on Columbia, Walnut and W. Main streets and the failure of cars to stop at the intersection of Walnut and Main and Chestnut and Main.

The blinker lights at these two intersections are accepted by the state as "full-fledged" traffic signals and must be obeyed as such. Street Commissioner A. G. Morris is to repaint all street lines, stop signs and other traffic warning signs so that there will be no doubt in the mind of the vehicle operator as to what is expected of him.

An arrangement is being worked out to help relieve the congestion on Main st. so that it will not be necessary for cars to double park.

Anderson Warns of Boom In Real Estate, Collapse

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson declared today that continuing advances in prices of farm real estate threaten to create a disastrous postwar land boom and a subsequent collapse.

He gave this warning in a statement commenting on a report of the bureau of agricultural economics that advances in prices of farm land, started early in the war, have not yet halted.

The bureau said farm real estate values rose 13 per cent during the year ended March 1 and 4 per cent more during the last 12 months. Values were said to average 71 per cent above the 1935 level.

Comparing the present trend with the real estate boom of World War I, Anderson said the latter "teaches us that runaway land prices can bring suffering to the entire nation as well as to unfortunate farmers who lose their land and investors who lose their life savings."

Leetonia Council Orders Drive Against Motorists

LEETONIA, April 5.—Traffic control and violations have been discussed at length by the village council and the police department has been authorized to arrest all violators of double parking, illegal parking, failing to stop at intersections and reckless driving.

Two of the greatest hazards Leetonia has at the present time are reckless driving on Columbia, Walnut and W. Main streets and the failure of cars to stop at the intersection of Walnut and Main and Chestnut.

The blinker lights at these two intersections are accepted by the state as "full-fledged" traffic signals and must be obeyed as such.

Street Commissioner A. G. Morris is to repaint all street lines, stop signs and other traffic warning signs so that there will be no doubt in the mind of the vehicle operator as to what is expected of him.

An arrangement is being worked out to help relieve the congestion on Main st. so that it will not be necessary for cars to double park.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

ATHENS—Tragic Greece, womb of democracy and present Balkan political pivot, faces one of the most stupendous reconstruction jobs in history.

Her buildings are 23 per cent destroyed. More than 200,000 families among her 7,500,000 population are still homeless or living in makeshift shanty towns.

Her revenues have been cut 20 per cent in the agricultural areas by the ruin of war and the resultant flight from farms by peasants who for thousands of years have been her mainstay.

These are Greek government figures. And all that is left to rebuild her are her peoples' stout hands and hearts—and hopes of foreign help.

These hearts are fewer by 450,000—dead during war years from battle wounds, malnutrition and disease.

Peace No Solution

Peace has bought no solution to her problems, which are primarily economic rather than political.

In normal times 60 per cent of the population live on the soil yet only 18 per cent of Greece is arable. German, Italian, Albanian and Bulgarian invaders have razed by fire, bomb and shell scores of villages, and thousands of individual farm dwellings made great stretches of farmland uninhabitable.

"As a result," said one government survey, "people have congregated in the large urban centers of Greece." The nation's battered industrial system, never too flourishing, has been unable to absorb them set productively—despite the tremendous rebuilding task at hand. Things are needed—tools, materials, transportation and communication facilities—to put this idle reservoir of labor to work.

"In these centers where there are not enough jobs even for the regular population," the report continued, "the number of unemployed has increased terribly and tens of thousands are without work."

"Overcrowding is terrible—10 to 20 persons live in a single unhealthy room—sanitary conditions are execrable and tuberculosis passes from person to person."

Help Is Needed

"The Greek race will disappear and the conquerors whose aim was to wipe us out because we were the last Mediterranean obstacle to their drive to the Suez will achieve their purpose, unless we undertake the reconstruction of this country."

But all the leaders of Greece feel she is unequal to this task herself—without decisive help, either from the democratic west or the communist east.

Meanwhile the night clubs of Athens are crowded with black market profiteers and by day in the streets grown men beg and sell flowers with idle hands that could better be put to work lifting their homeland from the edge of chaos.

Uncle Sam Needs Men for Posts Throughout World

Nearly eight months after the war, the United States still mans garrisons on every continent and in 56 foreign countries and major islands throughout the world. Map above shows where U. Eye Banks In Key U. S. Cities Are Providing Healthy Corneas To Aid Sight Restoration

By NEA Service

NEW YORK—Eye banks, similar to the well-known blood banks, are being organized on a nation-wide scale so that 10,000 to 15,000 of the estimated sightless persons in the United States may have their sight restored.

In certain categories of blindness healthy corneal tissue may be grafted upon eyes to replace tissue that has become cloudy or opaque, but the operation is very difficult and few surgeons are qualified. Few blind persons, individually, could avail themselves of this opportunity, but the recently created Eye Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc., hopes to make this dream come true for many.

As its name implies, this organization is actually a bank—an institution whose capital stock is human eyes. Healthy eyes removed from persons immediately after death are sought by the Eye Bank.

Tissue must become immediately available for transplantation. Under present methods, this tissue can be preserved for only 72 hours. Speed is imperative. One of the prime functions of the Eye Bank is to obtain eyes promptly after they are removed, and preserve them for grafting upon the eyes of those who are accessible for the operation.

Sponsored by a council of 75 leaders in the fields of science and business, the Eye Bank, with headquarters at 210 E. 64th st., New York, is extending its work throughout the United States.

Kiner So Good Frisch Offers To Cook

Allays Fears
Of Rook's Ma

Ralph Kiner ... chases 'em all out of center field.

By CHESTER L. SMITH
NEA Special Correspondent

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—The hottest rookie to come out of the far west this spring is Ralph Kiner, 23-year-old outfielder of the Pirates.

Frank Frisch spent the first month of the training season rubbing his eyes, wondering if he could believe what he saw. It seemed almost too good to be true.

Now Uncle Frank is about ready to break down and confess he has fallen heir to a prize. He comes out flat-footed and says Ralph Kiner will be the Pittsburgh club's centerfielder. It took only four weeks for the big kid—he stands six feet, two and weighs 160 pounds—to chase all the other candidates out of the middle garden.

"Kiner will have to put himself on the bench," declares Manager Frisch. "Until he does, he's my man."

When the Corns broke camp and headed east, Kiner had accumulated the noble batting average of .497, with 23 hits in 47 times at bat, against the Browns and White Sox.

Bucs' Find Hits Major Pitching For .497; Making Good In Center

Kiner is fast, has a powerful arm, made half a dozen eye-opening catches that stamped him as an able defensive player.

To a club that needs power on the attack as badly as the Pirates, Kiner is a lifesaver to team up with Bob Elliott, Elbie Fletcher and the others of Frisch's hired hands who wave a wicked willow.

Kiner, whose home is in Alhambra, a suburb of Los Angeles, was signed by Hollis Thurston, the one-time White Sox pitcher, then the Pacific Coast scout for the Pittsburghs, where he was a student at Pasadena Junior college. He reported in '42, was almost lost sight of in the shuffle, and before Frisch could have another look, he was on his way to the Navy, where he piloted a bomber.

Kiner came back this spring with no more fanfare than accompanied a dozen or more other young fellows who were trading one of Uncle Sam's uniforms for one of Uncle Frank's, but he hadn't been in camp two days before Frisch was standing behind the batting cage, frowning with delight.

The boy's stance is reminiscent of Glenn Wright, the Pirates' famous shortstop-slugger of the 1920s. He stands with feet wide apart and takes a man's cut.

Ralph and his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Kiner, are great pals. The bonus he received for signing went as part payment on a new home. Frisch gave Kiner permission to commute between San Bernardino, where the Pirates prepared, and Alhambra, and he hurried home to his mother's cooking every night.

Shortly before the Pirates departed, Frisch was told that Mother Kiner was fretting because she feared her boy would have trouble finding lodging and the kind of food he wanted in faraway Pittsburgh. And who would mend his sock and sew on buttons, she wondered.

"If that guy keeps on hitting, I'll attend to his darning and sewing personally—and I might even stir up his favorite pudding or bake the kind of pie he likes," braved The Flash.

Of course, Frank Frisch has seen too many boys hit the skies in March and the skids in June to go completely overboard on Ralph Kiner, but at this writing the Alhambra Appleknocker has sold himself and no mistake.

SUGGESTS MEN CHECK INCOME TAX SITUATION

Tribe President Answers Rumor That "Dozen of Club Want to Leave"

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 6—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians gave the "green light" today to any members of the Tribe who want to play in the Mexican league—but declared rambling Redskins should "check up on the income tax situation first."

Bradley's statement followed publication of a story by the Cleveland Plain Dealer yesterday stating that "at least a dozen" Indians' players had been approached by the Pesopitching Pasquel brothers, and that "several Tribesmen are considering jumping" south of the border.

Free To Leave

"If we have any boys that want to go to Mexico, they ought to go," Bradley asserted. "If they are dissatisfied with us they should go and stop talking. My only advice is that they check up on the income tax situation and be certain they get their money—in dollars."

The Tribal camp was "in an uproar" over the published reports as the Indians broke spring training camp and left for a northern trip with the New York Giants, said the Plain Dealer, "but the facts remained unchanged."

"While most of the established regulars brushed off the Mexican story with flat denials or declined comment, it was known that some of the lower-salaried Redskins had taken the stand that $5,000 should be the minimum wage for major league performers—and that anyone receiving less than this amount would be foolish if he didn't give serious consideration to the bids from Mexico," the Plain Dealer dispatch said.

Some Contemplating

"The Mexicans are trying to sign several inmates of the Wigwam and some of the latter are more than casually interested," the story asserted.

"Bullet Bob" Feller has refused flatly an offer from Don Jorge and his brothers, said the Plain Dealer, which quoted an anonymous Tribesman as saying:

"This is what we have needed. It's no secret that we have discussed in clubhouses many times the possibility of organizing a union. Put it in your paper, as strongly as you wish, the fact that we are pulling for the Mexican league to make good."

The story mentioned no names of the Indians' members allegedly approached with contract bids by Mexican representatives.

Costly Words

Americans spend $10,000,000 a year saying "please" in telegrams. Next most polite word is "thanks." The two words average more than $15,000,000 combined in telegrams every year.

Canton Lehman Has First Chinese Football Player

By HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio A.P. Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, April 5.—Canton Lehman may come forth with a Chinese football quarterback in a year or two.

The boy is Gene Sue, 15-year-old Freshman who currently is quarterbacking on the reserve squad in spring practice. Although he's only five-feet, six-inches tall and weighs only 120. Sue has impressed Assistant Coach Paul Roby with his vicious tackling and all-around defensive play.

During the past winter the lad was a guard on the Freshman basketball team at Lehman and will go out for track when the spring football practice ends. And he has an average of better than 90 in his classroom work.

ODES AND ENDS

Mrs. Don A. Detrick, executive secretary of the Ohio Fair Managers association, reports 72 fairs in Ohio will conduct harness racing meets this summer and four others are on the tentative list. "It looks like the biggest year for fairs and harness racing in Ohio since before the war," she writes.

Bowling Green's basketball players apparently didn't think big Bob (Feathills) Kurland of Oklahoma, A. & M. was so tough. They didn't pick the huge seven-footer on their opponents' team. Named to the team were Jack Lewis of Eastern Kentucky and Ernie Calverly of Rhode Island state at forwards; George Mikian of DePaul at center, and Mel Riebel of Great Lakes and Rolfe Sieb of Hamline at guards. Kurland was named to the second squad.

Bowling Green, incidentally, has arranged a tentative eight-game football schedule for next fall. The Falcons plan to open on Sept. 27 against Central Michigan and follow with games against Ball State (Ind.), Miami, Kent State, Calicut (N. Y.), Oberlin, St. Bonaventure and Xavier.

Resignation of Rolfe Boldt has put the University of Toledo in the market for a basketball coach and among those reported as being considered for the job is Homer Hanham, present mentor at Toledo's Woodward High. Hanham has had Woodward in the state tournament.

A STAGGERING COMBINATION

Ohio State may be serving "Tom and Jerry" to its football opponents next fall. No, it won't be the drink but it will be Tom James or Tom Phillips at one halfback and Jerry Krall at the other.

Stephens Back With Browns

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—Shortstop Vern Stephens, 1945 American league homerun king, rejoined the St. Louis Browns today after a short-lived bolt to the Mexican league and was welcomed home without penalty by club and league officials and Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The star infielder who made his debut in Mexico with a game-winning hit for Vera Cruz only last Sunday, showed up unheralded during the Browns' exhibition stopover in San Antonio, Tex., yesterday and quickly affixed his signature to a one-year contract.

Chandler declared that "Stephens will be in the Browns' lineup on opening day" and beckoned to other major leaguers who signed with Mexican loop clubs to return before the season's opening. Otherwise they face a five-year suspension.

American league President William Harridge said Stephens returned with full approval of the league and would not be penalized since he had not signed a previous contract with the Browns. Terms of his new contract were not disclosed.

A persistent holdout all spring, Stephens had demanded $17,500 from the Browns, whereas most estimates of club offers were around $12,500.

When Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican circuit, announced last weekend that he had signed Stephens, he asserted he was paying the star shortstop "at least as much as the $17,500 he had sought from the Browns."

Stephens had worked out regularly near the Browns training camp at Anaheim, Calif., and appeared in good shape during frequent visits to camp to discuss a contract. He accompanied the club to Houston, Tex., where the Browns engaged the Cubs in an exhibition game today.

Coach Waldo Ward's Track Team Loses First 68½ to 49½

Columbiana's track team intimated one season in a dual meet against Poland at Poland yesterday afternoon, dropped a 68½ to 49½ decision as Coach Waldo Ward's charges got their first taste of competition.

Bill Newell, veteran of three years in track, copped the honors for the Clippers yesterday by posting first places in the 100-yard dash, the shot put and the 220-yard dash. He also was a member of the four-man 880 yard relay team which won its event.

Bob Hum, Rich Berryman and Frankie Gorcheff comprise the balance of the squad.

Hum took firsts in the high jump and the discus.

Coach Ward's squad this year is a promising one. Mainstays in the dash events are Newell, Hum, Berryman and Gorcheff.

Harry McBride, Bob Antram, Richard Goodwin and Sonny Wolfgang appear to be the top men in the middle distance events, Ward says.

Kenny Jessop and Francis Cunningham are the stalwarts in the long distances.

Carl Sheets, 215-pound football star, Newell, Jim Mollenkopf and Wolfgang are the weight men. In the jumps, Hum, Newell, Mc-

Bride and Antram are carrying the load so far.

Kiner So Good Frisch Offers To Cook

Allays Fears
Of Rook's Ma

Ralph Kiner... chases 'em all out of center field.

By CHESTER L. SMITH
NEA Special Correspondent
SAN ANTONIO, Texas.—The hot-foot rookie to come out of the far west this spring is Ralph Kiner, 23-year-old outfielder of the Pirates.
Frank Frisch spent the first month of the training season rubbing his eyes, wondering if he could believe what he saw. It seemed almost too good to be true.
Now Uncle Frank is about ready to break down and confess he has fallen heir to a prize. He comes out flat-footed and says Ralph Kiner will be the Pittsburgh club's centerfielder. It took only four weeks for the big kid—he stands six feet, two and weights 196 pounds—to chase all the other candidates out of the middle garden.

"Kiner will have to put himself on the bench," declares Manager Frisch. "Until he does, he's my man."
When the Corsairs broke camp and headed east, Kiner had accumulated the noble batting average of .497, with 23 hits in 47 times at bat, against the Browns and White Sox.
Against the Sox one afternoon in Pasadena, he hit a home run over the wall in left, a second that cleared the far barrier in left center, a double and two singles.

Bucs' Find Hits Major Pitching For .497; Making Good In Center

Kiner is fast, has a powerful arm, made half a dozen eye opening catches that stamped him as an able defensive player.
To a club that needs power on the attack as badly as the Pirates, Kiner is a lifesaver to team up with Bob Elliott, Elbie Fletcher and the others of Frisch's hired hands who were a wicked willow.
Kiner, whose home is in Alhambra, a suburb of Los Angeles, was signed by Hollis Thurston, the one-time White Sox pitcher, then the Pacific Coast scout for the Pittsburghs, when he was a student at Pasadena Junior college. He reported in '42, was almost lost sight of in the shuffle, and before Frisch could have another look, he was on his way to the Navy, where he piloted a bomber.
Kiner came back this spring with no more fanfare than accompanied a dozen or more other young fellows who were trading one of Uncle Sam's uniforms for one of Uncle Frank's, but he hadn't been in camp two days before Frisch was standing behind the batting cage, fairly drooling with delight.
The boy's stance is reminiscent of Glenn Wright, the Pirates' famous shortstop-sluggor of the 1920s. He stands with feet wide apart and takes a man's cut.

Ralph and his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Kiner, are great pals. The bonus he received for signing went as part payment on a new home. Frisch gave Kiner permission to commute between San Bernardino, where the Pirates prepared, and Alhambra, and he hurried home to his mother's cooking every night.
Shortly before the Pirates departed, Frisch was told that Mother Kiner was fretting because she feared her boy would have trouble finding lodging and the kind of food he wanted in faraway Pittsburgh. And who would mend his socks and sew on buttons, she wondered.
"If that guy keeps on hitting, I'll attend to his darning and sewing personally—and I might even stir up his favorite pudding or bake the kind of pie he likes," beamed The Flash.
Of course, Frank Frisch has seen too many boys hit the skies in March and the skids in June to go completely overboard on Ralph Kiner, but at this writing the Alhambra Appleknocker has sold himself and no mistake.

SUGGESTS MEN CHECK INCOME TAX SITUATION

Tribe President Answers Rumor That "Dozen of Club Want to Leave"

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, April 6.—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians gave the "green light" today to any members of the Tribe who want to play in the Mexican league—but declared rambling Redskins should check up on the income tax situation first.
Bradley's statement followed publication of a story by the Cleveland Plain Dealer yesterday stating that "at least a dozen" Indians players had been approached by the Pesot-pitching Pasquel brothers, and that "several Tribesmen are considering jumping" south of the border.
Free To Leave
"If we have any boys that want to go to Mexico, they ought to go," Bradley asserted. "If they are dissatisfied with us they should go—and stop talking. My only advice is that they check up on the income tax situation and be certain they get their money in dollars."
The Tribal camp was "in an uproar" over the published reports as the Indians broke spring training camp and left for a northern trip with the New York Giants, said the Plain Dealer, "but the facts remained unchanged."
"While most of the established regulars brushed off the Mexican story with flat denials or declined comment, it was known that some of the lower-salaried Redskins had taken the stand that $5,000 should be the minimum wage for major league performers—and that anyone receiving less than this amount would be foolish if he didn't give serious consideration to the bids from Mexico," the Plain Dealer dispatch said.
Some Contemplating
"The Mexicans are trying to sign several inmates of the Wigwam and some of the latter are more than casually interested," the story asserted.
"Bullet Bob" Feller has refused flatly an offer from Don Jorge and his brothers, said the Plain Dealer, which quoted an anonymous Tribesman as saying:
"This is what we have needed. It's no secret that we have discussed in clubhouse many times the possibility of organizing a union. Put it in your paper, as strongly as you wish, the fact that we are pulling for the Mexican league to make good."
The story mentioned no names of the Indians' members allegedly approached with contract bids by Mexican representatives.

Canton Lehman Has First Chinese Football Player

By HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio A.P. Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, April 5.—Canton Lehman may come forth with a Chinese football quarterback in a year or two.
The boy is Gene Sue, 15-year-old Freshman who currently is quarterbacking on the reserve squad in spring practice. Although he's only five-feet, six-inches tall and weighs only 120, Sue has impressed Assistant Coach Paul Roby with his vicious tackling and all-around defensive play.
During the past winter the lad was a guard on the Freshman basketball team at Lehman and will go out for track when the spring football practice ends. And he has an average of better than 90 in his classroom work.

ODDS AND ENDS

Mrs. Don A. Detrick, executive secretary of the Ohio Fair Managers association, reports 72 fairs in Ohio will conduct harness racing meets this summer and four others are on the tentative list. "It looks like the biggest year for fairs and harness racing in Ohio since before the war," she writes.
Bowling Green's basketball players apparently didn't think big Bob (Footballs) Kurland of Oklahoma A. & M. was so tough. They didn't pick the huge seven-footer on their opponents' team. Named to the team were Jack Lewis of Eastern Kentucky and Ernie Culver of Rhode Island state at forwards; George Mikan of DePaul at center, and Mel Riech of Great Lakes and Rollie Seltz of Hamline at guards. Kurland was named to the second squad.
Bowling Green, incidentally, has arranged a tentative eight-game football schedule for next fall. The Falcons plan to open on Sept. 27 against Central Michigan and follow with games against Ball State (Ind.), Miami, Kent State, Canisius (N. Y.), Oberlin, St. Bonaventure and Xavier.
Resignation of Rollie Boldt has put the University of Toledo in the market for a basketball coach and among those reported as being considered for the job is Homer Hanham, present mentor at Toledo's Woodward High. Hanham has had Woodward in the state tournament

Stephens Back With Browns

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—Shortstop Vernon Stephens, 1945 American league homerun king, rejoined the St. Louis Browns today after a short-lived bolt to the Mexican league and was welcomed home without penalty by club and league officials and Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler.
The star infielder who made his debut in Mexico with a game-winning hit for Vera Cruz only last Sunday, showed up unharmed during the Browns' exhibition stopover in San Antonio, Tex., yesterday and quickly affixed his signature to a one-year contract.

Chandler declared that "Stephens will be in the Browns' lineup on opening day" and beckoned to other major leaguers who signed with Mexican loop clubs to return before the season's opening. Otherwise they face a five-year suspension.
American league President William Harridge said Stephens returned with full approval of the league and would not be penalized since he had not signed a previous contract with the Browns. Terms of his new contract were not disclosed.
A persistent holdout all spring, Stephens had demanded $17,500 from the Browns, whereas most estimates of club offers were around $12,500.

When Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican circuit, announced last weekend that he had signed Stephens, he asserted he was paying the star shortstop "at least as much as the $17,500 he had sought from the Browns."
Stephens had worked out regularly near the Browns' training camp at Anaheim, Calif., and appeared in good shape during frequent visits to camp to discuss a contract. He accompanied the club to Houston, Tex., where the Browns engaged the Cubs in an exhibition game today.

Coach Waldo Ward's Track Team Loses First 68½ to 49½

Columbiana's track team initiating the season in a dual meet against Poland at Poland yesterday afternoon, dropped a 68½ to 49½ decision as Coach Waldo Ward's charges got their first taste of competition.
Bill Newell, veteran of three years in track, copped the honors for the Clippers yesterday by posting first places in the 100-yard dash, the shot put and the 220-yard dash. He also was a member of the four-man 880 yard relay team which won its event.
Bob Hum, Rich Berryman and Frankie Gorcheff comprise the balance of the squad.

Hum took firsts in the high jump and the discus.
Coach Ward's squad this year is a promising one. Mainstays in the dash events are Newell, Hum, Berryman and Gorcheff.
Harry McBride, Bob Antram, Richard Goodwin and Sonny Wolfgang appear to be the top men in the middle distance events, Ward says.
Kenny Jessop and Francis Cunningham are the stalwarts in the long distances.
Carl Sheets, 215-pound football star, Newell, Jim Mollenkopf and Wolfgang are the weight men.
In the jumps, Hum, Newell, Mc-

Bride and Antram are carrying the load so far.

other business groups, and followed President Truman's recommendation that the agency be continued for a full year beyond June 30.

But it wrote into the OPA extension bill yesterday these far-reaching revisions:

1. A requirement that OPA restore the retail profit margins it has trimmed for a large number of reconversion items—autos, refrigerators, radios, etc.

This revises the OPA cost absorption policy which has required retail outlets to bear a portion of the increased cost of production by reduction of markup or discount margins.

Assigned To President

2. A directive that price controls be liquidated in various lines as supply comes into balance with demand, with the gradual decontrol responsibility assigned directly to President Truman rather than to OPA.

3. A provision for early termination of the government's $2,000,000,000 annually subsidy program, including payments to reduce consumer food costs.

This amendment would slash subsidy payments in the next fiscal year by 25 per cent, or $500,000,000, and require the government to get out of the subsidy business by June 30, 1947.

4. A repealer for OPA's maximum average price policy by which the agency forces manufacturers to produce low cost clothing.

An OPA official estimated that the revision of the cost absorption program would boost automobile costs to consumers in the next 12 months by $300,000.

OPA has cut the retailer discount on automobiles to 19.5 per cent. If the amendment remains in the bill the agency would be required to restore the discount to the prewar 24 per cent level.

The revised bill made no changes in current OPA rent ceiling regulations.
